DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 1-7, 9-12, and 21-26 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The application as originally filed has no mention of first and second zones.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1, 2, 5, 9, 11, and 12 (as understood) are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Houseman (3,982,910), which shows all of the claimed limitations. Houseman discloses, among other things, a method of combustion including establishing a combustion zone 56 spaced from a fuel nozzle and defined by a flame of ignited hydrogen (see at least fig. 5), dispersing a liquid primary fuel through the nozzle into the zone of combustion in a partially vaporized and atomized state (see at least col. 2, lines 12-23, and fig. 6), and burning the vaporized and atomized liquid primary fuel entering the zone of combustion. Houseman further shows rotating the hydrogen flame (see at least fig. 6) with discharge openings radially spaced from the longitudinal axis and angled toward the central axis, wherein the combustion zone is defined by a conical surface symmetric about the longitudinal axis (see at least fig. 5,6), and wherein water or steam is added and mixed with the fuel to reduce soot (see at least the Background section). Houseman further shows inwardly directed intersecting flames 74,76 (see at least fig. 6). It should also be noted that the term "mechanically" is afforded its broadest reasonable interpretation and is satisfied by Houseman.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

Art Unit: 3749

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

7. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

8. Claims 3, 4, and 6 (as understood) are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Houseman (3,982,910), which discloses substantially all of the claimed limitations. Nevertheless, Houseman does not specifically recite the claimed speed and range. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have incorporated the claimed speed and range into the invention disclosed by Houseman, since it has been held that where the general conditions of a claim are disclosed in the prior art, discovering the optimum or workable values and ranges involves only routine skill in the art. In re Aller, 105 USPQ 233.

Response to Arguments

9. Applicants' arguments with regard to the rejected claims have been considered, but are deemed moot in view of the new grounds for rejection.

Conclusion

10. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
